

INTERACTIVE ONE-DAY WORKSHOP

The group-based learning experience enables people to adapt and thrive in a permanently evolving environment.

STRENGTHEN your observation skills to better understand yourself and others
INCREASE your readiness to adapt and change.
RESOLVE challenges more effectively and joyfully.
WORK in a respectful and result-oriented manner with your team and others.

“Before attempting to lead others, we need to be able to lead ourselves. Seeing that we have a conscious choice in how we react to our environment is incredibly powerful. greytogreen provides the tools to remind us of this choice.”

Elina K., Leadership Development Manager, UK

PROGRAM

1. Explore and understand the greytogreen process step-by-step.
2. Practice the approach through real-life cases.
3. Gain understanding of your own thought- and behavior patterns. Work on an actionable solution for a personal challenge.
4. Deepen your acquired knowledge by working in pairs and benefitting from one another's perspectives.

PARTICIPANT TAKEAWAYS

- ✓ "In only one day, I mastered the greytogreen process".
- ✓ "I learned a lot about the way I think and communicate".
- ✓ "Now, I can look at situations, that previously appeared unsolvable, from another perspective".
- ✓ "I can handle challenges more effectively. For myself. With my team, my managers and colleagues".

LEARNING METHODOLOGY

You work in various groups of three to four people.

Inspiring posters, cards, pictures and stories ensure interactive and engaged learning.

You explore real-life cases and scenarios in a safe learning environment. Then you apply the newly gained insights to your own context.

SIMPLE

Quick to implement and accessible to all and, even without prior knowledge.

SCALABLE

Begin with one team, then implement greytogreen throughout your organization. Worldwide.

SUSTAINABLE

Integrate the greytogreen attitude in your daily routines and it becomes part of your company's culture. Develop a learning organization.
